

WELCOME TO INC.'S BEST WORKPLACES 2020

Congratulations on being recognized on Inc.'s fifth annual Best Workplaces list! The competition this year was fiercer than ever, with thousands of companies agreeing to have their employees surveyed to learn who is most satisfied.

While we've faced unprecedented challenges since you applied, and while your workplace may be many individual workplaces at the moment, we know you have created a culture that will allow you to thrive. Being named one of the very best is testament to what you and your team have built. In these days of disrupted markets and difficult decisions, having the right culture is more critical than ever, and your accomplishments help set a standard that millions of others can learn from. That's important.

You will find your company's name listed in the May/June issue of Inc. magazine and on Inc.com. We hope you will spread the good news to your employees, customers, and stakeholders. Congratulations again!

Sincerely,

Scott Omelianuk
